The 2016 Scharzhofberger P Riesling opens with a deep, pure and smoky bouquet with crunchy slate notes and very fine Riesling aromas that still play the second fiddle here. This nose indicates a great terroir wine from the most famous vineyard along the Saar. Lush and elegant but aristocratic, terribly complex and long on the palate, this is a fascinating dry Scharzhofberger from the Pergentsknopp plot. The 2016 is as fine and filigreed as it is intense and complex. The finish, however, is mind blowing, Van Volxem's 2016 Pergentsknopp is the finest dry Scharzhofberger I have ever tasted and one of the finest dry German Rieslings I have tasted from this more than excellent and digestible vintage. What great tension here. This is powerhouse of a Riesling. The combination of purity, tension and complexity is fabulous here. Tasted March 2016.

The 2016 Wiltinger Riesling has a clear and aromatic bouquet with flinty/crunchy slate and perfectly ripe stone fruit aromas. This is gracefully cool and precise but also ripe and sensual. Concentrated, juicy and crystalline on the palate, with super ripe, sensual fruit and fine tannins, this is a refreshingly mineral and spicy-piquant Riesling from the Braunfels Einzellage. The 2016 Riesling Kabinett "Rotschiefer" shows intense, ripe and rather tropical fruit intertwined with lovely flinty slate aromas. Rich and intense but also piquant and pure, with mouth-filling fruit and stimulating salinity, this is a lush and coolish Kabinett whose moderate sweetness is well captured by the lingering minerals, grip and tension. Keep this wine for 5 to 10 years and stay prepared to be surprised. Tasted March 2018.

The 2016 Riesling Alte Reben offers a clear, intense and flinty bouquet of perfectly ripe and fleshy Riesling intertwined with very fine slate aromas. Highly elegant and very mineral on the palate, this is a complex, firm, still a bit austere but promising Riesling with a pure, crunchy and very persistent finish with minty flavors. This is surely a long-distance runner and should be kept under cork for at least another 5 to 7 years. Great finesse and elegance here. The finish is extraordinarily long and fresh. A great wine from old vines cultivated in several "premier crus" along the Saar. Tasted in March 2018.

Fermented in 2,000-liter oak barrels and aged for six months, the 2016 Weissburgunder (AP 15 17) has a clear, pretty intense and aromatic bouquet with fine, flinty crystallinity in the background. Medium to full-bodied, lush and round on the palate, this is a fine, elegant, intensely fruity and juicy Pinot Blanc sourced in the Wiltinger Klosterberg and Wawerner Ritterpfad. It is slightly creamy and not bone dry, and it weigh in at a stunningly moderate 12% alcohol. The finish is quite long and complex, revealing serious structure and mineral expression. Fifty percent of the wine underwent malolactic fermentation.

The 2016 Saar Riesling (AP #3 17) displays ripe, concentrated fruit with a deep, weathered slate aroma. It is warm and herbal rather than cool, as if it came from red, clayey slate. Lush, round and very elegant but also compact on the palate, this 12% alcohol Riesling offers a lot of intensity and mineral expression at this price point. The serious finish is fresh and aromatic and indicates excellent aging potential. I'd recommend cellaring this wine for at least another 3-5 years, since it will leave you with a sense of wonder in several years. Tasted March 2018.

The 2016 Goldberg Riesling displays an intense and perfectly ripe stone fruit bouquet along with very fine (red) slate aromas. Crystalline, fresh and pretty dry but nevertheless lush and aromatic on the palate, this is a tight yet elegant and remarkably fine Goldberg with vital acidity and purity in the piquant, mouthwatering finish. But wait! The minerals and tannins are still too astringent for many palates today, so keep the wine for 5, 10 or even 20 years—it will surely never be disappointing. The 2015 Windvogt is coolish, fresh and crystalline on the deep and mineral nose—fascinating! Full-bodied, slightly creamy, terribly elegant and fresh on the palate, this remains the finest and most complex Pinot Blanc I have ever tasted from the Saar. This is doubtlessly Grand Cru level—a wine with power, finesse and the piquant Saar freshness. The finish is extraordinarily long, fresh and salty. It should be exciting to follow the development of this wine over days and certainly over years. Although the 2015 already drinks beautifully, I wouldn't waste all its talents too early.
